

6516206954.txt

XM Radio provides services that I pay for that are unavailable to me otherwise. The traffic and weather information that the XM service provides is by far the most complete conversation available anywhere. I pay extra for this service and do not want to lose it. I see no reason that a service I have chosen to pay for should be discontinued because of the free local programming that is available. The traffic information available on the local networks is inadequate.
Thanks

Bryan Millmore